With many years of experience in senior office administration, accounting, auditing, and title and escrow work, Susan Bryant, Treasurer, brings a wealth of expertise to the team. Her personal journey has deeply shaped her commitment to the Above the Influence Network's mission. At just 18 years old, she found herself homeless and alone after struggling with substance abuse. Through sheer determination, she was able to climb out of that difficult period, working her way through college in pursuit of a degree in computer science.

During her time as a computer lab teacher in the WCCUSD, Susan also served as a student council leader. This role allowed her to dive into her passion for civic engagement, training young speakers, creating excitement for student government, and assisting high school cheerleaders in bringing their cause to televised city council meetings.

With her unique blend of professional expertise and personal fortitude, Susan applies her financial and administrative accomplishments to ensure Above the Influence Network's resources are leveraged to a maximum impact. In her spare time, Susan makes it her mission to reach the unreached, regularly venturing into homeless encampments and other underserved areas to connect individuals struggling with addiction and unhealthy living conditions with the critical services and support they need to achieve freedom and transform their lives. She firmly believes that as long as there is breath, there is hope for a brighter future. As a Novato resident she regularly takes the opportunity to explore the beauty of Marin's landscape while hiking local trails with her husband.
