Ccunningham@atinetwork.net

As Director of Media and Operations, Cian Cunningham brings a multifaceted approach to leadership, blending creative expertise with a strong foundation in public service. He received his B.S. Mechanical Engineering degree from CSU Maritime Academy. With a background in videography, digital marketing, web development, and media production, he oversees all aspects of the organization's communications, marketing, and administrative functions.

Cian's dedication to community service is rooted in his experience as an EMT, SUD RC certified counselor, and service in the Army National Guard as artillery. These roles have shaped his commitment to creating impactful, positive change through innovative media strategies. Cian believes in the power of change through the right leadership, helping guide people to make the right choices, one decision at a time.
